You are cordially invited to attend LILAC's Virtual Spring Professional Development Event. At this event we will honor both educators and students by celebrating Long Island teacher participants and their student winners of our annual Kenneth Gambone Writing Contest.

In addition to highlighting our local teachers and students, we are pleased to host our featured presenter, Dave Goldman. Dave "Teacherman" Goldman is a high school English teacher and independent author and musician who was born and raised in Long Island, NY. In 2017, he published his first children's book - Little Man Nate Finds His Song - about his son, Nate, and his love of music. He went on to publish a second children's book in 2019 called The Great Blue Dragon about a beloved teacher who passed away suddenly. After publishing these works, along with an album of original music, Teacherman continues to pursue his passions: teaching kids, playing music, writing stories, and bringing his original ideas to life.

Please join us and fellow colleagues for an inspiring and uplifting celebration of literacy on Thursday, April 29, 2021, from 11:30 am – 1:45 pm. Those who register will receive a Zoom meeting link.

Please tear off the registration form below and send it, with a check payable to LILAC, to the address listed below. Teacher/student Gambone winners will be complimentary for this event. You can also register through our Google Form by clicking here: <https://forms.gle/2fGE45nGfaSLJhgi9> and paying by PayPal or credit card on our website at www.lilac.ws. Please note that LILAC does not accept purchase orders in lieu of payment.

If you have any questions, please email me at ksiegel@mccsd.net.

Sincerely,
Kyrie Siegel, Ed.D.
LILAC Secretary
